

SEVERES ARTERY IN BREAK-IN..LIVES

A 23 year-old Toronto man is in Peterboro Civic Hospital after nearly losing his life, when he severed an artery in his right wrist while breaking into the Wilberforce Liquor Store. Police say a malfunction in the alarm system allowed the culprit to smash open a window with his hand undetected and escape with some $26.46 worth of booze last Wednesday. Bleeding profusely, he drove to a friend's place in Harcourt from where he was taken to Bancroft Hospital, then immediately transferred to Peterboro Civic Hospital for emergency treatment. Smith was apprehended there by police. As a result of an investigation, by Provincial Constable Jim Martin, Ian Doyle Smith has been charged with break, enter and theft and driving while prohibited. As well, he has been charged with three previous break-ins at the same location, in which the stolen property amounted to more than $400 and damage was assessed at some $800. Last Wednesday's break-in caused some $558 damage as well as almost ending Smith's life.

honor
Ron Curry

A Haliburton man will receive an honorary diploma in applied education from Sir Sandford Fleming College, college officials announced last week. Former Chairman of the Board, Ronald J. Curry, of Haliburton, will be honored this Saturday at the tenth convocation ceremonies in Lindsay.

RONALD J. CURRY

It is action such as this last Sunday that could well make our own Horseshoe Rapids the 1980 site of the Canadian Kayak and Canoe Whitewater Championships. While some minor changes in the river might be necessary to accommodate the championships, they would in no way destroy the wilderness appeal of the falls, Roger Parsons, Provincial Representative for the national body of the Canadian Whitewater Affiliation, told the Progress Sunday. He went on to say that Canada will host the 1979

World Championships at Jonquiere, Quebec, the first time the championships have been held outside Europe.

Seniors housing on the way

His is only the third honorary diploma to be awarded in the 10-year history of the College.

Mr. Curry joined the Board in 1969 as one of the first representatives of Haliburton County, and was elected chairman of the Board in 1971. He also has a long history of community service in Haliburton County, including terms as councilor and reeve of the Municipality of Dysart et al, and as Warden of Haliburton County. Mr. Curry has held top posts with the Haliburton County Board of Education, the Haliburton Chamber of Commerce, and the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts.

The Lindsay convocation May 14 will be held at Cambridge Street United Church at 2.00 pm. His Honor Judge G.F.W. Inrig will be guest speaker.

Haliburton's senior citizen housing units project is rapidly approaching reality according to Ministry of Housing representative Sidney Palmer, as he addressed Dysart et al's regular council meeting held Monday.

Palmer said the only items left to be approved are the Ministry of Environment's tests of the water quality at the site and the appointment of an architect. The Ministry of Housing will develop the units which will be located on the old Laine property on Mountain Street in Haliburton.

Palmer said his ministry hopes to acquire the property next month, send out tenders in October of this year, and begin construction in the Spring of 1978.

The Municipality of Dysart et al will be responsible for 7½ percent of the units' operating deficits. Palmer pointed out that

Lutterworth gets $14,500

Lutterworth Township is one of 26 municipalities to be allocated grants totalling $1,093,961 under the Ontario Home Renewal Program (OHRP), Housing Minister John Rhodes has announced.

OHRP provides per capita grants to Ontario municipalities to administer directly as loans to homeowner occupants to repair their houses to an acceptable municipal minimum standard.

The Lutterworth grant amounts to $14,500 or some 50 percent of the amount requested. The grants announced today represent various portions of the total 1976-77 funding designated under OHRP for each municipality. Loans of up to $7,500 can be given to eligible owner occupants to bring their homes up to the standards adopted by their municipality.

Funeral
bender

A West Guilford church funeral procession was the scene of a fender bender last Saturday in which some $1,000 damage was done to the two vehicles involved.

The procession was winding down Highway 530 on its way to the cemetery and, as the cars slowed down, a 1975 car driven by William Stamp, 19, of Haliburton slammed into the rear of a 1968 car driven by Ella Aileen Smith, 42, of Enniskillen.

Smith's car received some $250 damage while the Stamp car sustained some $800 damage.

The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce

Arrangements are being finalized for the breakfast seminars that we spoke of here in this column last week. Working in co-operation with Sir Sandford Fleming College, Department of Continuing Education we are able to bring you some very qualified discussion leaders at no additional cost. You are therefore invited to have breakfast with us at the PineStone Inn, on Wednesday June 8th at 8 am, at only $3.50 each. We are sure you will find the next two hours following breakfast very constructive and informative, under the leadership of Alma Pope from Barrie, Ontario. This time will be devoted to improving your staff management capabilities. We will be briefly touching on hiring of staff, considerable attention will be given to the management and training of staff, and considerable concentration placed on staff moral. We felt this subject was not only timely but extremely important as we will realize our staff have a great deal to do with the selling of our own particular business. Anyone who has a staff of one or more should gain considerable benefit at this short session, and by 11 o'clock we'll have you on your way and back to work. A second breakfast meeting of this nature will be held on Wednesday, June 22nd with a brand new topic. We'll tell you more about this one later. We also anticipate carrying on this program in the Fall with breakfast meetings held at various locations throughout the County on various topics of interest to our members. We are extremely pleased to be able to bring this program to our membership and indebted to Sir Sandford Fleming College for their co-operation in this regard.

The way businesses are moving out, in both Haliburton and Minden, from shop to shop and location to location it's getting so you almost need a program to keep up with what's going on. The latest move in Haliburton involved Nancy's Flowers who has moved into larger facilities next to Brohm's Variety. Nancy opened her new shop last week and already looks well established in her new headquarters. In addition to having far more room to adequately display her many beautiful wares, she has also found that she can expand her business to new horizons. The shop will now also house Nancy's Bridal Boutique which can provide many of those special things that you used to find so difficult to obtain in Haliburton area, including such things as wedding invitations, and ornamental decorations for the top of the cake. We certainly wish Nancy much success in her new location.

LaRue Motors recently moved out onto the highway into their new facilities which are certainly a credit to their operation. We note that their new showroom seems to be quite busy since its opening. The quarters they vacated will soon be occupied by Haliburton Red & White. Work is progressing rapidly in order to prepare the facilities for them. Upstairs in that building our Canada Manpower Office continues to operate and we have a new tenant. Horton & Wallace Ltd., Ontario Land Surveyors have recently acquired office space across the hall from Canada Manpower. Horton & Wallace have their head office in Whitby and this office is manned by Jim Kirkland who hales from Oshawa. Jim has just purchased Bob La Rue's house on Head Lake and is very much looking forward to becoming a permanent part of our community. Jim makes a point of being in the office from 8 am to 10 am every morning, so, drop in and get acquainted. We at the Chamber certainly wish both Jim and his company success and prosperity here in the Highlands.

We just got the good word here at the Chamber that not only are facilities going to be spruced up with a Young Canada Works grant, but we are also going to get town water way out here on the highway. What an improvement that will be, having relied up until now on rain water in a cistern, and we've always been afraid that somebody would unwittingly drink it someday.

Decision on group home delayed one month by Dysart

A concerned Dysart et al Council listened attentively Monday as Mrs. Hector Gervais outlined to council her plans to locate her family of five plus ten foster children in the vicinity of Haliburton.

The Gervais' have offered to purchase Del Haven Hotel and Resort on the outskirts of Haliburton Village but are seeking approval for such a move from local authorities.

Paramount among the Gervais' concerns is the acceptance of their large family of ten foster children into the local public school system.

The Gervais have been spending the last four summers at their cottage near West Guilford and have come to like the Haliburton Highlands so well that they hope to move here, she told council.

Mrs. Gervais pointed out that Haliburton's a rural society, such as would be in the best interests of the children. This 'family' home situation has become a full-time occupation for both she and her husband and would not be any different than any normal, related-family home, she said.

The children range in age from 8-17 years with the home care funded by the Metro Toronto Branch of the Catholic Children's Aid Society.

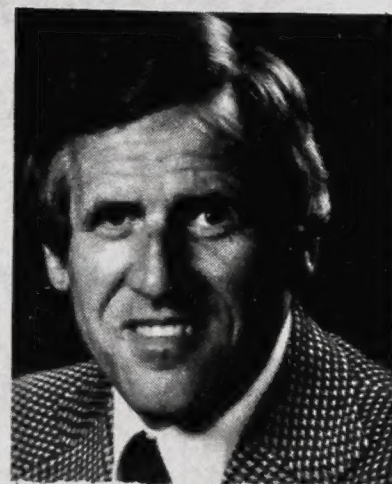

Reeve Murray Fearrey told Mrs. Gervais that he fully appreciated the situation but had reservations about the large influx of foster children into the Haliburton County education system, which, he explained, was already taxed to its limits and may not be able to accommodate any more children at this time.

After much discussion and soul-searching Dysart Council passed the following resolution: 'That the application of Mr. and Mrs. Hector Gervais be held in abeyance for one month. This application for a family (group) home is considered with reservation by Council and before blessing by this body could be given, the municipality would require endorsement from the School Board and a definite position from the Ministry of Social and Family Services on what the approximate ratio is in our school system and our society.'

Also the position should be clarified as to the number of unrelated children in one normal family household. The ten foster children in the Gervais home would seem to be high to council. Also, as to what regulations that would apply to health regulations and fire protection on the proposed site.

Minden with break, and enter, with intent to steal.

Police believe Walker broke into the cottage in an attempt to find some liquor.

...Some 91 years of wedded bliss, the topic of the day for these two Kinmount couples last Saturday as they celebrated their same-day wedding anniversaries with a special dinner at Mr. Fogg's in Carnarvon. For the former Somerville Township Clerk-Treasurer and still

Victoria County Justice of the Peace, Archie Williamson and his wife Zeta (right), it marked their 55th wedding anniversary. For Geo-

Dysart et al council learned Monday that some 13 lakes in their municipality have been stocked with over 63,000 fish by the Ministry of Natural Resources this year.

Stephen Toole, Fish and Wildlife Supervisor for the Minden District, presented council with a brief on the Ministry's fish stocking program for the Municipality of Dysart et al. The lakes stocked do not include Harcourt Township, which is looked after by Bancroft District, nor Bruton and Clyde Townships, which are looked after by Algonquin Park District.

The actual allocations for the Minden District for 1977 are as follows: Brook Trout - 15,700; Rainbow Trout - 2,000; Lake Trout - 84,940; Muskinonge - 4,000.

The following Dysart et al lakes have been stocked with Lake Trout: Have-lock (6,520); Percy (8,000); Miskwabi (9,000); Kennisis (10,000); Drag (10,000); Kelly (4,200); North (3,000); Bashaunt (2,000); Haliburton (500).

Bivouac Lake received 5,000 Brook Trout while Hurst Lake received 2,100 of the same species. Some 2,000 Rainbow Trout were put into Burdock Lake while Head Lake received 1,000 Muskinonge.

'You've got some excellent waters here', Toole commented.

'Well, we're anxious to cooperate with you because we want the fish', Reeve Murray Fearrey replied.

Last year Fearrey felt that the number of fish stocked in Dysart's lakes was far below council's expectations but that this year Natural Resources has been very fair in its efforts.

Death Knell?

The recent and growing publicity given the pollution of Ontario's lakes and rivers could well sound the death knell for tourism as a major industry in the Haliburton, Kawartha and Muskoka regions.

This could prove a very real peril and one we must all face up to as more and more publicity is given to lakes and rivers found polluted to a potentially harmful extent.

Certainly, officials would be derelict to not warn the public of such dangers.

On the other hand, such news stories are welcome grist for the mill of the opportunist politician or zealous crusader seeking a cause... any cause.

However, to call for a ban on fishing in all polluted lakes and rivers as did NDP leader Stephen Lewis recently demonstrates the danger of oversimplification and shows a lack of any real understanding of the problem and all its ramifications.

Sober consideration of the extent and type of pollution present in each case must be considered in any such evaluation of the problem and its solution.

A few years ago a temporary but necessary ban on fishing in Lake St. Clair due to mercury pollution had a far-ranging, crippling effect on the area's tourism. Not only tourist operators, but many businesses dependent in part on tourism suffered severely, or folded completely.

But would it be really fair or, for that matter, economically sound, to lump a Koshlong Lake, for example, in with a Lake St. Clair and ban fishing in both simply because both were found to be polluted, but in varying degrees.

We think not.

Certainly, we can't afford pollution.

But neither can we afford the willy-nilly condemnation of our lakes and rivers on a wholesale basis.

A business column by Frank Kaplan Viewing the news Let my people go

People moan about giant bureaucracies, unfeeling government, big business and big labor. Underlying such complaints is a feeling of frustration, usually well-founded on personal experience.

The frustration most often stems from an inability to obtain an answer, to get a decision even on the seemingly-simplest matter.

Plan on doing something involving working through a government agency, and months, if not years, later the plan is still sitting on a shelf.

You don't get a "yes", and no one says "no". The project is suspended in mid-air -- and usually, the bigger the undertaking the longer the suspension.

We all know the frustration of the homeowner who wants to build a garage or minor addition to a house. A building permit is required. In nine cases out of ten, I would guess the project goes ahead without the permit -- sometimes in such a ridiculously bizarre fashion that in one case in Toronto, a man took a power saw to physically separate two attached houses. The innocent party with the open wall then became caught up in a tangle that at the height of winter was still being argued.

At this time in Canada, we have huge practical problems -- related to making a living and putting some earned bread on the table.

Seemingly-endless discussion is going on about what should be done. Always, the what should be done part involves government spending money -- big money. But there is an equally enormous difficulty present in the question: where's the money coming from for those big government projects?

Few seem to have considered an alternative to government spending what it doesn't have. That alternative is allowing a lot of us lesser lights to undertake some of those suspended and red-tape wrapped projects.

"Let my people go" is part of the tradition in a country where the enterprise of the individual was the main support of when Canada had an envied society.

Quite simply, what's needed more than ever is a decision -- preferably a "yes", although even a "no" can release energies in new directions by removing an uncertainty.

A decision or something others want to do needn't cost a government a thin dime. In fact, if decisions were made within reasonable and realistic times, government probably would save money on the paperwork, meetings and people necessary to keep stalling.

I want "yes" decisions these days because a "yes" in certain specific circumstances and projects pending in Canada can unleash huge energies and immediate national benefits.

Consider one small example revealed in Toronto recently. For some years, the political animals and the civil servants have been kicking around plans for redevelopment and new development in a major part of the city. Now a master plan is before a provincial government agency and the discussion and argument is incessant and expected to drag out indefinitely. The business community involved in Toronto isn't helping matters any with its interminable manoeuvring at these hearings.

At some stage a detailed plan will be decided upon. And when decided, work will get underway on a variety and multitude of projects that already fit into the plan. Someone pointed out that known projects will provide jobs for at least 5,000 construction workers. But not today -- because no one concerned will say "yes" to anything -- even when they know a "yes" will be given eventually.

On a much larger scale, there is a project like a natural gas pipeline from the far north -- multi-billions to be spent over many years, and not a dime of the dough to come from government. Years of analysis, discussion, debate still continue without a decision. Surely practical solutions could have been found long ago to honest obstacles.

Think of how many matters you know about that are hanging fire because someone won't make a straightforward decision.

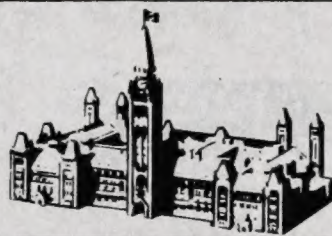

Canada these days is something like the girl in the song "she wouldn't say yes" and she wouldn't say "no".

The alternative, as the nation's prime minister so crudely suggested to some university students, is to leave the country to get a job.

Neither the parents nor the students want to do this because their life stake is in Canada. Surely, a healthier attitude would be one of "damn the torpedoes -- full speed ahead".

We once had that approach from the line in a wartime movie but we made the mistake of giving too much authority for decision-making to people who don't have the necessary guts.

OTTAWA and Small Business

Does Anyone Remember Parliament?

A couple of decades ago, in the Dark Ages when elected representatives were still expected to help govern, some long-lost cynic pointed out that politicians, by and large, aren't very well qualified. In the cynic's words, "the veterinarian who doctors our dogs and cats is required to show more preparation for his calling than is the politician who seeks to assume the right to direct not only our industrial but also much of our personal life."

That's a neat argument, with only one flaw: it forgets that, for all their faults, the politicians are of the people and elected by the people. They are the spokesmen for their constituents.

Lately, Parliament hasn't been used much in day-to-day governing. All the real decision-making is done by a handful of Cabinet ministers and thousands upon thousands of civil servants.

The MPs, by and large, aren't happy about this and they show their discontent by spending as little time as possible in the House. Except for Question Period, when backbenchers can harass the Cabinet, the House is all but deserted. Everyone knows that, no matter what Parliament seems to be doing, the heavy action -- such as dismantling of the Anti-Inflation Board -- is taking place behind closed doors.

Decisions are being made in three ways. Constant federal-provincial meetings result in the major decisions. Cabinet confers regularly with big business and labour leaders. And civil servants handle most of what remains. Parliament simply rubber stamps policies made by mandarins in back rooms.

The trend away from Parliament has been accelerating. Recently, the Canadian Labour Congress proposed that Cabinet, big business and big labour should get together to establish an all-powerful planning body which would have executive powers in government. The Canadian Federation of Independent Business successfully opposed this idea -- but the plan would never have arisen in the presence of a strong Parliament.

Obviously, something has to be done to get government back into the hands of elected representatives. Two good places to start would be television cameras in the House of Commons and delegating more authority to House committees.

Television would take Parliament into every home. Good MPs and bad PMs would be easily identified by the general public, just as good and bad government policies would be more recognizable.

But the most promising reform would be reworking the House committees. At the present time, any MP who doesn't toe the party line in committee is promptly removed. But, in the United States, Congressional committees have broad powers to investigate and legislate. House committees could provide a platform for competent backbenchers, giving their position some purpose and bringing a voice of the people back into government.

In other words, let's get government out of the back-rooms and back into Parliament where it belongs.

Money and Divorce - Is There a Connection?

Between 1973 and 1974, marriages in Canada increased 8.5 per cent. In the same period, the birth rate took a dip by 0.1 per cent. Most spectacular of all was the rise in divorces from 35,704 in 1973 to 45,019 in 1974 — representing an increase of 22.7 per cent over the one-year period.

This upswing in divorce rate is not indigenous to Canada. Last year, the United States Census Bureau reported one million divorces. Six per cent of all married couples in the U.S. parted in 1975.

In divorce, Canada is still behind the United States. For every 100 marriages conducted in Canada in 1974 there were 22 divorces. For every hundred marriages conducted in the United States, there were 50 divorces.

The trend to higher divorce rates has been subject of untold scholarly papers and journalistic endeavors. Is divorce suddenly fashionable? Are there changing attitudes towards divorce?

According to Ronald Copeland, director of the Oakville (Ontario) Family Service Bureau, the answer is "yes" to these queries. Cope-land's agency sees between 1.5 and 2 per cent of the total population of Oakville (Pop. 67,634) in a 12-month period. Most of the clients are in the throes of divorce, and, according to the director most of them are at least one year's salary in arrears.

Does this mean that family finances are at the root of the problem? "They are often claimed to be," says Copeland. "But in fact, financial difficulties can be used to cover up the real problems."

"I know many families at almost the poverty level who are completely content," he says. "Yet there are others who may be worth 2 million or more who cannot make a go of marriage."

The Oakville Family Service Bureau's experiences may be unique in that the agency serves a community which boasts the highest per capita income in all of Canada. Revenue Canada 1973 reports the average Canadian income at $8,665. That same year the average income in Oakville was $10,922. The regional municipality lies 23 miles west of downtown Toronto. There unemployment in March 1976 was recorded at 5.7 per cent. Unemployment across Canada at the same time was 6.9 per cent.

Why should such a financially secure community suffer such family disturbances if in fact money plays a role in marriage breakdown?

Part of the problem, claims Ronald Copeland, is the emphasis today's society puts upon possessions. "Things mean even more to people today than they did 10 or 15 years ago," he says. "We find people buying things just to appease themselves. You've got a problem, so you go out and buy something just to feel better."

The purchase may involve a relatively insignificant item like a woman buying a new hat. It could also involve greater spending like an expensive holiday. Here the family financial problem may either begin or begin to get worse.

In a recent panel on divorce conducted by Ontario Educational Television, the connection between money and divorce was not even mentioned. Three family lawyers cited marriage breakdown beginning with a lack of maturity. One of the panelists, Malcolm Crombie said "marriage can't promise future happiness." Crombie also claimed that divorce breeds divorce in family situations. Elliott Pepper suggested that easier divorce laws were creating an increase in family breakup.

It would appear that if money and divorce are related, financial distress is an effect rather than a cause. The answer lies in mature financial planning — the kind encouraged through agencies like the Oakville Family Service Bureau, and through auspices of the Association of Canadian Financial Corporations. According to Oakville's Ronald Copeland, families who lack the maturity to face the realities of married life, be they social or financial, will probably run into trouble, no matter how much money they possess.

Kinmount horticulturalists hold general meeting

by Mrs. Margaret Telford

Kinmount and District Horticultural Society held their second general meeting of the year on May 4th at the Legion Hall. The Hall looked nice with candles and bouquets of golden tulips. The evening started off with a pot luck supper, with families and friends of members invited. This established an informal atmosphere which lasted throughout the evening. Only one item of business was discussed, ending in an affirmative vote to continue the judging of all flower show competitors' gardens. Mrs. Irene McElwain has offered to supply an annual trophy for this purpose. Mr. LeRoy Brown of Lindsay spoke on early summer garden culture, including information on soil testing, pest control, fertilizers, pruning and grafting. He invited questions during his talk, which made for some interesting discussions. Mrs. LeRoy Brown gave us a short demonstration on 'How to make something out of nothing', producing very attractive flower vases, napkin rings, coasters, etc., out of articles which normally end up in the household garbage. Among those present at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Tink, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chiddicks, and Mr. Manfred Dzedzitz. Mr. Tink is Director of District 4 of the Ontario Horticultural Association. Mrs. Chiddicks is an Assistant Director. Mr. Dzedzitz is the society's new part time gardener, who will help us make Kinmount more beautiful this year.

Save electricity, save natural resources.

About a third of Ontario's electricity is generated by burning fossil fuels... coal, oil, natural gas. The price of all these natural resources is increasing rapidly. The price of coal, for example, has tripled over the last five years. Higher fuel costs inevitably show up in the price you pay for electricity.

Save electricity, and you'll save money. You'll also be helping to conserve dwindling natural resources for other important uses... transportation, agriculture, chemicals.

Conserve energy.
The future depends on it.

Rockcliffe changes hands

One of Minden's oldest businesses, the Rockcliffe Hotel changed hands this week.

Popular Minden publican Bill O'Brien, who took over the Rockcliffe some 7 years ago, announced that the hotel had been sold to Pollard-Willis Ltd. of Norland. The new owners are Bill Pollard, Jim Taylor and Dave Willis who, in partnership, also own Butch's Bait and Gulf station in Norland.

Dave Willis and his wife Sandy will manage the hotel as well as live in the 'executive penthouse suite' at the Rockcliffe.

Dave is a 33 year-old father of two children, age 6 and 7, and a former account executive for Willis Advertising in Toronto. Dave plans to carry on his new business in much the same manner as did his predecessor, Bill O'Brien. He does, however, expect to add a few new twists to the venture.

He hopes to reopen the lounge for businessmen's luncheons and cocktail hours and is exploring the possibility of also opening on Sundays under a dining lounge format.

He also plans to bring his 6 year-old pet Mynah bird, Jeeves, into the Rockcliffe to entertain the patrons - or, perhaps, Jeeves will be entertained by the patrons. Already Dave is tossing around ideas for contests which he hopes to hold on the premises during the winter months.

So, on behalf of the community, the Progress extends a hearty welcome to Sandy and Dave and wishes them well in their new venture.

And, at the same time, we bid a fond farewell to Bill and Janie O'Brien, who will soon be moving to Toronto where Bill will take over the Morgan Paper Wholesale Distributing Company on June 1st.

Hall's Lake News

Doreen Stinson

A lovely week of nice sunshine, a little cool sometimes and frost at nights. High winds on Friday kept the firemen busy and also the Hydro crews. Some telephones were knocked out by fallen trees over wires.

Fishermen are coming up from the cities now in droves. We don't hear of any great catches as yet.

Mrs. Ethel Harrison has been a busy woman this past week what with quilting bees, friends visiting, and the Guild of St. Stephen's all coming in one week. Emily Coulter and Doreen Davis of Kirkfield were among the visitors. Beautiful quilts are being made in readiness for the July bazaar. All these ladies do lovely hand work and put hours of love and labour into their creations.

Spent a pleasant evening with Art and Nellie Kerr at their 'Chalet in the Pines' over on Kushog Lake. Enjoyed their clear and educational colored slides of their trip to New Zealand and Australia. Also admired their many hand-made and useful furnishings which add much charm to their home and the gorgeous view from a huge picture window. Mr. Kerr was a teacher for many years and recently took his travels on screen to the pupils of Mrs. Audrey Chambers in Minden Public School where they were enjoyed.

Nice to see Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bowers back at their cottage this week-end. Their son Kevin is active in play acting and a graduate of Guelph University, and their other younger son is still at Secondary level.

Had a card today from Al and Lil Rawlins from Scotland and they are enjoying their vacation and travels very much, although the weather has not been too favorable over there.

Mr. Jennings is constructing another cottage or two in his Sandy Lane Resort. Mr. William Lindsay is assisting with the carpentry.

Several members of the Club got together last Wednesday for a clean-up day and some suggestions by the Health Department have been followed through. Willing and capable hands can make a big difference in the upkeep of such a Clubhouse.

Looking forward to a change this Mothers' Day - instead of having the family come home - we are going to the family! Will be spending Sunday and Monday with Bonnie and George Holliday in Mount Forest, and Bill and Rosemary Woods will be on hand to make it complete.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brittain of Glenroy Lodge had their friends, the Fords of Ajax, visiting with them this past week.

The McGuires have their daughter Marilyn Anderson, John and Lindsey and also Hazel Welch with them for the week-end. The Andersons live near Georgetown.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cater were up at their cottage last week. Their daughter Pauline has another baby now and they are very proud of their two grandchildren. Pauline and Robbie were just babes themselves when we first knew them as they paddled around at the beach and built castles in the sand.

Tom Montgomery is up from Downsview this week with his family. He is studying hard this year and hopes to go on to College next term.

When Archie and Ruth Neil were driving from Hall's Lake to their cottage on Kushog near Ox Narrows last evening, a big Mother bear and two baby bears crossed the highway just a few feet from them.

Mr. Roy Anderson has gone to spend some time in the Minden Hospital. We trust the change and treatment there will help him to feel some better.

MAIN DISH SALAD, MEXICAN-STYLE

The cuisine of Mexico varies widely from region to region because Mexico is not really a single country but a group of countries tied together in a loose package. These regional differences within the country occurred because there was little travel or commerce across Mexico's rugged mountains so that the Indian communities kept their identities and passed them along to the populations of mixed Spanish and Indian ancestry that developed locally.

Mexican cookery includes such delicacies as tacos, enchiladas, tamales, mole poblano, ceviche and huachinango veracruzano. Onions, tomatoes and chilies are popular ingredients south of the border. Suggested here is a main dish salad with a zesty dressing that uses all three. Mexicali Dressing can be served with salad greens, cold meats, fish or eggs. The recipe uses Planters Peanut Oil, lightest of the polyunsaturated oils.

MEXICALI DRESSING

1/4 cup chopped onion
1/3 cup Planters Peanut Oil
1 can (4-ounce) chopped green chilies
1 can (6-ounce) tomato paste
1/4 cup white vinegar
6 tablespoons water

In small saucepan, saute chopped onion in Planters Peanut Oil until tender. Stir in chilies, tomato paste, vinegar and water. Cook for 1 minute. Cook thoroughly. Use for salad greens, cold meats, fish or eggs. Makes about 2 cups.

Fire risk high in Canada, moderate in Haliburton County

The risk of forest fires in Canada has greatly increased this year over previous years due to drought conditions throughout most of central North America following an unusually mild and snow-free winter, Fisheries and Environment Minister Romeo LeBlanc warned last week.

A check with the local office of the Ministry of Natural Resources revealed that, since May 1st, 13 forest fires have consumed some 12 acres of valuable timber in the Minden district.

Senior Fire Control Technician for the Minden District, Hugh Allore, said that the fire rating in the Minden district was moderate. He also pointed out that none of the Minden district fire crews had been called away yet, but he expects the call to go out shortly unless the northern parts of the province receive a lot of rain.

Each year forest fires, most of them man-made, destroy millions of dollars' worth of valuable timber. In 1976 some 9,967 fires ruined 1,590,000 hectares of forest land, while fire protection costs amounted to more than $50 million. The losses in terms of wildlife and recreational areas were also very substantial.

The loss to Canada is significant, LeBlanc pointed out, mainly because forest products account for almost 20 percent of all Canadian exports. The forest industry directly employs more than 300,000 people in Canada and represents more than three billion dollars in wages and salaries alone.

Police pinch paddlers

Two 17 year-old youths of no fixed address face charges by police following a West Guilford cottage break-in.

Working on a tip from a West Guilford resident, police found the Claypack Lake cottage of Kurt Leuman, of Toronto, broken into. They discovered a window broken and some $450 worth of food stolen, plus a canoe.

One portage and one lake later the two culprits were found together with the canoe on nearby Bear Lake and were apprehended after entering another cabin.

Charged with break, enter and theft is Douglas Harold McClaskin and Timothy Victor Lafontaine.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Bill Clendenning.

About the Town

with Jeanne Sears

In answer to the many inquiries concerning the teaching career of the late Mrs. Vinton Loucks, the local Unit of the Superannuated Teachers of Ontario offer a tribute to her memory. As Miss Emily Hunter, she came to the area in 1924, and taught in her first school, S.S. No. 1, Minden for two years until her marriage. Following W.W. 2, she returned to teaching and became well-known and highly regarded. She taught in several local schools, some of which are no longer area landmarks. The schools, Scotch Line, Gelert, Lutterworth and Norland were fortunate to have been guided by her dedicated spirit. As an active member of the Teachers' Federation she will also be sorely missed.

MOTHER

As long ago we carried to your knees
The tales and treasures of eventful days,
Knowing no deed too humble for your praise,
Nor any gift too trivial to please,
So still we bring with older smiles and tears,
What gifts we may to claim the old, dear right;
Your faith beyond the silence and the night;
Your love still close and watching through the years.

This Saturday, May 14 will be the Bake-Bazaar by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Boy Scouts, this starts at 10 am and the funds will swell the sum toward the Scouting Summer Trip.

Sincere sympathy goes to the families and friends of the late Mary Jane Cooper and Catherine Burr whose funerals were since last week.

Members of the Women's Institute take notice that the May meeting will be at St. Paul's Parish Hall at 2 pm on the 18th, with same committee as on your programs.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coulter, Trudy and David, were weekend guests with Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson and Earl of Whitney.

DO YOU KEEP WHITE ELEPHANTS?

Leaky hot water taps are not only annoying, they cost money. The energy used to heat the water just runs down the sink.

Steam irons loaded with mineral deposits require more energy to heat the water to the desired temperature. The money spent for a cleaning agent which will desolve the deposits saves in the long run, both on your energy bill and in the life of the appliance.

If your hot water tank has pin hole leaks, chances are the tank insulation is wet, and cost of hot water over a period of time will far exceed the cost of a new tank.

Is your house as dry as the Sahara Desert in the winter? If so, consider purchasing a humidifier; not only will you notice a marked saving in fuel consumption, but you and your family will have fewer colds and stuffy noses.

Do you over boil your food? Once water on your vegetables reaches a steady boil, cut back the heat to a point where boiling is just maintained. Continued application of high heat uses energy needlessly and does not speed the cooking process to any degree.

Price index up 2.1 percent in April

OTTAWA - Recent price increases for fresh produce, dairy products, coffee and sugar were mainly responsible for a rise of 2.1 percent in the AIB's retail price index of food for home consumption during the four weeks to April 15.

This index, based on a survey of supermarkets in 12 cities, now stands at a 122.8 (1974=100). This is 6.6 percent higher than a year ago, and 4.0 percent above the level that prevailed at the start of the anti-inflation program 18 months ago.

The dairy products index increased 2.0 percent since mid-March, due mainly to higher butter prices following the increase in the Canadian Dairy Commission's support price, and to higher fluid milk prices in Ontario.

Fresh vegetable prices have advanced 8.4 percent since mid-March.

Fresh fruit prices were 3.5

percent above a month ago and 13.6 percent above year-ago levels.

Retail beef prices advanced 1.3 percent in the last four weeks but are still 3.2 percent below year-ago levels and 4.3 percent below levels that prevailed at the start of the anti-inflation program.

Retail pork prices have declined 1.8 percent since mid-March in response to lower dressed hog prices, and are now 8.3 percent below April, 1976.

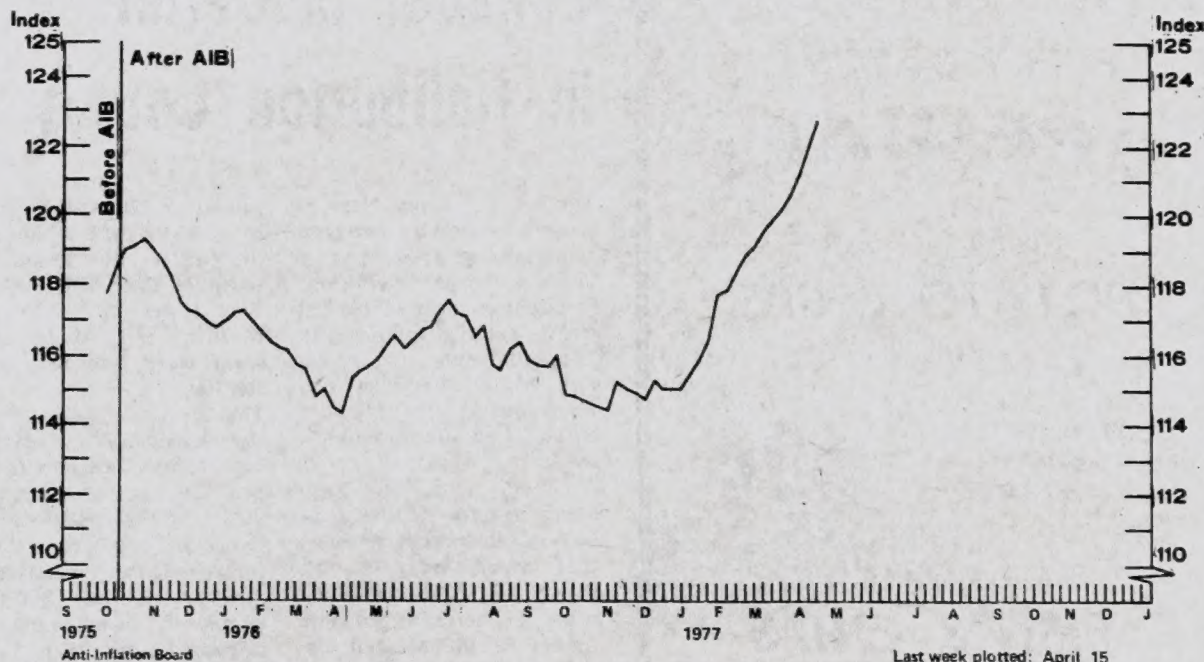

Poultry prices increased 1.6 percent during the last month but are only 0.5 percent above year-ago levels.

Amongst items in the 'other food' component, sugar has been mainly responsible for a 2.6 percent increase in this index. The beverage index rose 8.0 percent during the last four weeks as a result of further increases in the price of coffee.

AROUND OUR TOWN by Cedric

All they want to talk about down at the barber shop anymore seems to be the November elections. Especially since our local delegate came back telling this story:

Everything came up roses for southerners at the recent Democratic convention in New York City. The only fly in the ointment was the problem of getting an order of grits in the restaurants. Jimmy Carter thought the problem exaggerated and went out to see for himself.

"What'll it be this morning Sir?" the waiter asked pleasantly, which was a surprise.

"Well," the distinguished diner said, "I'll have two eggs, over lightly, some Virginia ham and grits."

"Two eggs, over lightly, ham and uh, uh, grits? Did you say grits?" the waiter inquired with an incredible look on his face.

"Yes, grits!" was the emphatic reply. "Don't you people eat corn up these parts?"

"No, sir, I mean, I don't know sir," the unhappy waiter mumbled. The only corn I know about is on the cob. How about I get you some of that?"

"For breakfast? What do you take me for? No, I want grits. Go get some! he ordered.

The waiter returned in a few minutes with a well-dressed man, who turned out to be the manager and another man in a white apron, who turned out to be the chef. (Everybody turned out to be somebody) The well dressed man spoke first. "What was it you wanted, Mr. Carter?" Butter would melt in his mouth.

The diner, obviously disliking the patronizing tone, snapped, "The name is Jimmy and I want grits!"

"What is this grits?" the chef interrupted. Ever since the convention began that's all I hear — grits, grits, grits..."

The waiter tried to be helpful. "It's made of corn."

"Precisely," agreed the diner.

"Oh," the chef intoned, smiling broadly. "You want cornmeal muffins. Well, why didn't you say so?"

"If I wanted cornmeal muffins, I would have ordered cornmeal muffins," Jimmy exploded. "Can't you understand English! Grits is fried corn hominy. That's what I ordered and that's what I want!"

The chef and waiter shrugged their shoulders. The manager spoke. "Certainly, sir. You! he indicated the chef and the waiter, "Fill the order and be quick about it."

The confused pair rushed to the kitchen to ponder their next move. "Where can we get grits? the chef moaned.

The waiter was less than helpful when he said, "The delicatessen down the street doesn't have any, I'm sure. Do you think he'd settle for kielbasa—I know I can get that!"

"No, stupid," the chef roared impatiently, "we'll just have to think of something else." As he examined the contents of his shelves, he came across a large jar of peanut butter. "If I just mix this with a little white flour and..." the chef was thinking aloud, "maybe, just maybe..."

The waiter served the distinguished diner and when he returned to the kitchen he had a broad grin on his face. He had overheard the comment made by the diner:

"That chef sure is a whiz, this grits has a little different taste but it sure is good—wonder what he put in it?" Carter mused to his secret service agent.

Fun in the Sun for ex-Mindenite

While the rest of us complain about frost and chilly temperatures, rain or what-have-you, a former Mindenite seems to have it made, at least in the weather department. He's Ivan Cox, son of Evelyn and Loyne Cox of Minden, who is located in the Thousand Oaks area of southern California. There, Mr. Cox is Commodore of the Anacapa Yacht Club which boasts a good-size junior membership and, apparently, an excellent training program for them. While we were still almost thigh deep in snow last March, Commodore Cox and son David (right) trim sail and get under way during a Sunday training session. Below (left), son Ryan Cox, 5, and a young partner are all smiles after winning the two-man relay. Below (right) other youngsters take part in a balloon race. And 'ahoy' to you, too!

"Ruddigore" delights audience... student operetta a "smash"

Highlight of the Spring season had to be last week's presentation by the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Glee Club of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Ruddigore" under the able direction of Bill Glidden. The farcical operetta takes a lighthearted look at a village's attempt to overcome the curse of Ruddigore Castle and its affect on the Murgatroyd family that live in it. For three consecutive evenings delighted audiences sat back and thoroughly enjoyed the 2½-hour presentation by the able young performers. For Minden and Haliburton Scouts the group's Wednesday evening presentation held special interest with all proceeds, some $160, being donated to a special fund being raised to send local Scouts to a Canada-wide Jamboree being held in Prince Edward Island this Summer. Caught by the Progress camera on opening night (counter-clockwise starting at the lower-left): (a) Dame Hannah, played by Lynn Barnhart, with the professional bridesmaids; (b) the operetta's lead characters, left to right, Rose Maybud (Catherine Kinsman), Robin Oakapple (Richard Stouffer) and Richard Dauntless (Alan Cooper); (c) ghosts of past Murgatroyds, left to right, Tom Bain, Graham Wallace and Scott Jackson; (d) Dame Hannah (Lynn Barnhart) and Sir Roderick Murgatroyd (Martin Grant); (e) the Ruddigore finale with all the cast on stage.

Ontario Women's Institute Meet In Waterloo

The 29th Officer's Conference of the Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario, gathered at the University of Waterloo campus, May 3, 4, and 5, 1977. Tuesday evening the group gathered at the Humanities Theatre, to be welcomed by the president, Mrs. Herb. Maluske, Chesley. Let's Sing session were led by Mrs. Hugh Baird and Mrs. Wm. Stone, of the Central (Toronto) Area. There were 511 registered for the Conference.

A warm welcome to the campus was extended by Dr. B. C. Matthews, President of the University of Waterloo. The university started 20 years ago, with 75 students and now there are 18,000 registered. Education is our business, never was there a time when it was more important.

Miss Molly McGhee, is the newly appointed Director of Home Economics Branch, Ministry of Agriculture and Food. She expressed her appreciation to Women's Institute members across the province, who give leadership so freely, for the many programs presented. For 80 years the W.I.'s have been involved with training and education, always keeping in mind the program must be kept up-to-date, in order to attract younger members.

Mr. A. R. Walker, Liaison Officer, Business Practices Division, Ontario Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations. "When planning for Life, train and Educated people," The Market place is a complex unit, even more so than 25 or even 10 years ago. We must learn to do more for ourselves and do it wisely. A good supervisor is one who can step on toes, without messing up the shine. How gullible are you? The con artist, works on fear. When shopping, think. Can you afford it and will it give satisfaction? Don't buy at first store, shop around! Get a reliable dealer you can trust and ask lots of questions.

The president, Mrs. Herb Maluske spoke on the theme "When planning for a year, sow corn; When planning for a decade, plant trees; When planning for life, train and educate people." We're talking about the necessity for "known how." In the Women's Institute this process takes place at the branch monthly meeting.

The outline for a Plan of Action consists of preparation, promotion, participation and perseverance, plus Praise. The executive started planning one year ago for this conference. The discussion group leaders have been busy since January. For a member to benefit most from these meetings her hands must be open to receive and give out again, to others the gifts of fellowship, friendship, understanding, helpfulness, sympathy etc. Everyone must be involved. Perseverance and persistence pays off in the long run. Never forgetting to complete the plan with Praise.

Mr. Gordon Bennett, Deputy Minister, Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food said the W.I.'s have been closely associated with the Ministry for 80 years, and one can only marvel how the W.I.'s have improved living in rural Ontario.

The Discussion group leaders were introduced; Education and Cultural Activities, chairman Mrs. Russell Harrison, also Mrs. Clarence Coxon and Mrs. Delmar Smythe; Family and Consumer Affairs, Chairman Mrs. Harold Blasing, also Mrs. Ray Tuck, and Mrs. George Powell; Citizenship and World Affairs, Chairman, Mrs. Robert W. Moore, with Mrs. Gordon Sherwin and Mrs. Alex. Wilding.

A delightful performance by the Waterloo-Oxford District High School students, took place in the Humanities Theatre Wednesday evening, when they presented the operetta, "Patience" under the direction of Mr. J. A. Cull, Stage Director, and Mr. E. J. Fergusson, Music Director. Before the presentation, Mrs. Maluske, was presented with a bouquet of red roses, with love and good wishes from all the delegates of the Officer Conference, as this is her third and retirement year, as president of the F.W.I.O.

The Plenary session Thursday morning brought the conference to a close, and delegates departed for their homes in all parts of the province.

Who has time to read medicine labels?"

Sorry, there is no excuse for not reading the medicine label. The label tells you what it's for, how much to take and how often to take it. It's important information. Before you take any medicine, read the label. Medicines can't help you if you don't take them right.

Police seek car thieves

Police are still investigating the apparent theft of a car early Sunday morning which was recovered less than a mile from where it had been parked. The 1976 car, owned by Kenneth Cockburn, 85, of RR 1, Minden, had been parked just a quarter-mile west of the Cupboard Store. Vandals ripped it off and got about a mile away before they smashed into a tree and abandoned the car. Although the vandal's identity is still unknown, Investigating Officer, Provincial Constable Jim Martin, expects to question two suspects.

Larry Stinson wins 100, 200, & 400 Metres

Steve Kirkpatrick

Steve Kirkpatrick shows the style that led to a 2nd place finish in the senior boys high jump last week at H.H.S.S. Steve cleared 5'6" with this jump.

Once again it was Track and Field day at the Haliburton Highlands Senior Secondary School. This year's Meet was held under less than ideal conditions, as the wind gusted upwards to 50 mph at times, causing very slow times in the track events. Larry Stinson was the outstanding senior on the field Wednesday, as he finished first in all four events he entered. Larry started off the day winning the 100 metres in 12.1, then the 200 metres in 25.0, the 400 metres in 56.5 and finally the 100 metre hurdles in 17.7. Larry ended the day with 25 points.

Molson's ups prize money

The Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters kicked off its Molson Big Fish Contest with the start of the Southern Ontario trout season on April 30th. Molson's Breweries have substantially increased their prize money for 1977 with $500 being awarded in each of 9 different categories. The top 15 fish in each category win cash awards with $150 going to the biggest catch in each. All fish over the honor award weight also win special Molson's Honor Award Certificates suitable for framing. Minimum Honor Award weights are as follows:

Speckled Trout	3 lbs.
Smallmouth Bass	4 lbs.
Largemouth Bass	5 lbs.
Rainbow Trout	6 lbs.
Walleye (Pickeral)	8 lbs.
Salmon	10 lbs.
Lake Trout
(or Splake)	15 lbs.
Northern Pike	15 lbs.
Maskinonge	25 lbs.

Be sure to enter all your good catches. Many prize winners are missed each year because the angler doesn't think his fish is big enough or just doesn't bother. Pick up an entry form and keep it in your tackle box.

Big Fish Contest entry forms may be obtained through resorts, tackle stores, Molson's representatives or from the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters at Box 1269, Campbellford, Ontario K0L 1L0. Wilberforce angler, Don Legge, entered his 4 lb. 8 oz. Speckled Trout last season and finished 15th in Ontario picking up a cheque for $10.00

Exclusive Healing Substance

Relieves Pain As It

Shrinks Hemorrhoids.

If you want satisfactory relief from 'Itching Piles'—here's good news. A renowned research laboratory has found a unique healing substance that promptly relieves the burning itch and pain—actually shrinks hemorrhoids. This substance has been shown to produce a most effective rate of healing.

In one case after another 'very striking improvement' was reported and verified. And most important... this improvement was maintained over a period of months.

All this was accomplished by a healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—which quickly helps heal injured cells and stimulate growth of new tissue. Now Bio-Dyne is offered in ointment and suppository form called Preparation H. Ask for it at all drug stores—satisfaction or money refunded.

Ev's Avengers led from start to finish in the 'B' Consolation Championship, finishing up with 705 pin victory over runner-up Dan's Dynamos, 10,004 to 9,299. Audrey's Angels finished third with 9199.

The Maple Lake league will now hold their Awards Banquet on Friday evening, May 13th, starting at 6 pm at Matabanick Inn.

For all those interested in registering for the National Coaching Development Program, Level 1, registration night will be Wednesday, May 18th, at 7.30 pm. at Carnarvon Lanes. The Level 1 Course is scheduled for Sunday, May 29th, Sunday June 5th, 12th and 26th. The course will commence each evening at Carnarvon Lanes at 7 pm.

The registration fee for this course is $10.00. The Course will run four hours each evening and will deal with Theory of Coaching.

A little Historical background on how this Program got started might help in making up your mind to take this Level 1 Course. In 1972, the Council of Provincial Directors of Sport and Recreation in Canada, recognized the need to upgrade the quality of coaching in each and all provinces. After considerable discussions, it was decided that the Province of Ontario should develop a model which could be implemented in each province.

Financial assistance was sought from the Fitness and Amateur Sport Branch of the Federal Government and liaison was established with the Coaching Association of Canada.

Development of the model and implementation has continued until the present with input from a number of provinces and acknowledged experts from across Canada.

The following will serve to establish the rationale of the program, its policies and overall directions.

It is generally recognized that national and provincial sport governing bodies have for many years, been involved in clinic programs, designed to provide a base knowledge concerning the skills, drills, and strategies of their sport. Sport governing bodies have the leadership personnel to conduct these clinics and the technical resources to perform this role well.

It was assumed that with further training coaches could perform their role of relating to the needs of their athletes better, if they had a working knowledge of the theoretical basis upon which the skills and drills are based. They should also have knowledge of the methods and relationships which lead to optimum learning and performance of these skills.

In the design of the model a method was sought which would allow the coach and the sport association to evaluate the implementation of the theoretical knowledge and the sport specific technical knowledge.

The real value of the theory base and the technical knowledge is in the coaches' application of both specific technical knowledge.

Therefore, the Practical requirement was introduced into the model.

Using the concept of 'general to specific learning', coaches should learn the Theory first, then the technical and subsequently put these into practice. This assumes the technical package to be sport specific and dealing with specific skills of the activity.

In the development of the model, we assume that more difficult and advanced knowledge is required by coaches as they become more involved with their sport. Secondly, that the knowledge required would differ with the age group, type of athletes and level of performance expected. Therefore, the model is structured into a tiered system consisting of five levels.

One of the most basic considerations in the design of the program is the recognition that a number of aspects of coaching are common to the large majority of sport activities. Therefore, the subject areas chosen in the Theory section are applicable to coaches and instructors of a variety of sports and are 'taught' in such a manner as to be relative to coaches involved in both the community and institutional sport scene.

Also included in the development of the model was a recognition that we must make use of existing areas of expertise available in Canada. Secondly, that the model must take into account the existing structures of sport in Canada and thirdly, that the system of implementation must make the program available to all coaches across Canada. Therefore, expertise was sought from the various universities across Canada to develop the theoretical core of knowledge required, secondly, that provincial and national sport governing bodies would be encouraged to continue their development of technically oriented courses and subsequently that both the Theory and Technical programs would be offered to allow for easy access by the coaches who reside in the thousands of communities across the country.

Since there are a number of elements common from one sport to another, learning these elements can be easily accomplished by having coaches share their experience with one another, allowing for maximum transfer of knowledge. The most basic premise integrated into the development of the Coaching Development Program is the well-known fact that coaches at all levels have an enormous influence over the attitudes and skills developed by youngsters and teenagers alike, which not only affect their activities in sport during the formative years but carry on in their attitudes and activities during adulthood.

Next week in this column, we will take a look at what you will be studying in this Level 1 Theory Program.

On Wednesday evening at Carnarvon Lanes, Gord Everall proprietor of the Lanes staged his first annual, Carnarvon Lanes Spring Roll-off. After the three game set had been rolled, Graham's Crackers from the Wednesday Couples league was declared Champions with a total pinfall of 3515. Individual award winners and picking up $10 each were: Ladies high single flat, Norma McKay of the Happy Gang with 259. High triple flat went to Pearl Foster of the Tuesday Commercial Mixed with 680. Ladies high single with handicap went to Cathy Boake of the Happy Gang with 325 and the handicap triple to Linda Conway of the Crackers with 727. For the men, flat single to Malcolm Boyes of the Crackers with 253, triple flat to Wally Crofts of Ingoldsby with 655, single handicap to Harry Fountain of Maple Lake with 310 and triple handicap to Mark Conway of the Crackers with 739. This inaugural tournament was a tremendous success, with every bowler looking forward to the Dance on Saturday, June 11th, where all the merchandise prizes so graciously donated by the many shopkeepers around the County. Under the handicap system used by Gord for this tournament, many of the bowlers, who might not ever have won a tournament otherwise, came up big winners. This in itself will make this tournament a success for many, many years. Congratulations Gord, on a very well organized, and entertaining bowling tournament.

Missing O.P.P. copter found south of Bancroft

An Ontario Provincial Police helicopter, reported missing Sunday on a routine 70-mile flight from Bancroft to Belleville, was found yesterday about 10 miles south of Bancroft by Canadian Armed Forces personnel, police said. Two provincial policemen aboard the helicopter were slightly injured, said a spokesman for the Canadian Forces air-rescue unit at Trenton. The pilot, Provincial Constable Gord Hedges, suffered burns while his passenger, Sgt. Mike McGinn, sustained a back injury.

The policemen, both from the Belleville headquarters, were taken by armed forces helicopter to Belleville General Hospital. The helicopter left Bancroft at 4 pm Sunday. When nothing had been heard from it 45 minutes after departure, the Belleville and Bancroft provincial police detachments tried unsuccessfully to make contact. At 8 pm Peterborough and Brighton cars head the helicopter calling but could not reach it by radio, police said.

Minden curlers gather for Awards Banquet

Some 100 curlers and guests were in attendance last Saturday night as the Minden Curling Club held its annual banquet and awards night at Deer Lodge. And even though some of the winning rinks were conspicuous by their absence, all those present report having a good time due to the fine food, excellent entertainment and camaraderie. Overall winners of the Mixed league for the second schedule was the Cec Yearwood team that curled Thursday night and managed to amass 80 points - good enough for first place in the Thursday league, as well as best among the 18 mixed teams. Cec and his team of wife, Louella, Jerry Pillsworth and Hilda Kiekhoeffer received the Home Hardware trophy for their efforts. Overall runner-up among the 18 mixed teams, and winner of the Friday Mixed league title was the team of Dwight Thomas, Toos Reid, Wilf Jarvis and Jean Ballard. Dwight and his team amassed 70 points over the second schedule and received trophies in recognition of their achievements. Toos Reid and Wilf Jarvis accepted on behalf of Thomas' team.

Runner-up to Yearwood's winning Thursday team was the rink of Bill and Penny Obee and Paul and Eileen O'Brien while the quintet of Joe Rivers, Gwen Cox, Pat and Betty Taylor and John O'Toole placed second to Thomas' team in the Friday Mixed league. Winners of the Wednesday Mixed league were Bob and Dale Austin, Jerry McKelvey and Eileen Crawford, while J.O. Jackson's team of wife, Jean, and Jim and Helen Burton placed second. In the Mixed league's 'A' division playoffs recipients of the Dollo Brothers trophy was the rink of Bill and Penny Obee, and Paul and Eileen O'Brien. In the runner-up position was the rink of Jack and Jean Jackson and Jim and Helen Burton. Winners of the Pat Taylor trophy for the best team in the 'B' division playoffs was the rink of Roy and Shirley Colliss and Neil and Norma Burk. Second spot went to the rink of Tom Hurtt, Leona McIntosh and Bill and Ev Procenko. Third place went to Bill and Willie Roodenburg and Jerry and Pearl Durant while Ed and Peg Pettinger and Brian and Vicki Cross took fourth position. Consolation winners of the 'B' group went to Paul and Patti Prentice and Bill and Janie O'Brien.

The championship 'A' division consolation winners were Art and Reta Hodgkinson and Ev and Eileen Rudd. In the Women's curling league, winners of the Sandy White trophy for top spot was the team of Louella Yearwood, Eileen Rudd, Leona McIntosh and Eileen O'Brien. Second spot went to Maisie McIntosh, Alice Clark, Aileen Blears and Ina Brintnell. Men's league winners and recipients of the Carnarvon Lumber trophy were Jack Jackson, Bernie Trepanier, Syd Brown and Fred Martin. Second place went to Cec Yearwood, Neil Burk, John O'Toole and Ron Reid. The Victoria Cleaners trophy, emblematic of Men's playoff champions, went to the rink of Alex Millar, Jerry McKelvey, Paul Prentice and Stan Blears. Second in the Men's playoffs went to Bob Austin, Harold Morgan, Al Barron and Richard Parisotto. Playoff consolation winners were Percy Brintnell, Lorne Coburn, Bill Payne and Steve Payne. After the buffet supper and awards presentation, the curlers danced into the wee small hours of the morning. This has proven to be a most successful season for the Minden club, both financially and competitively, with all the bonspiels being huge successes. Many thanks to Bill and Penny Obee and Bob and Dale Austin for their work as Bonspiel chairpersons. A tip of the hat must also go to Alex Millar who was instrumental in setting the ground work for a competitive curling league between the Hali-burton and Minden Curling Clubs, this year. Long overdue in the Minden club has been an emphasis placed on the competitive aspect of curling. It must be stressed that competitive curling does not necessarily distract from the social enjoyment but should serve to enhance the sport and instill more pride in one's own accomplishments. The old adage says it's not whether you win or lose but how you play the game. That is a fine saying and basically true, but I suggest that a curler who enters a game and doesn't care if he wins or loses has lost interest in the game. I firmly believe it's most difficult to find a sportsman who doesn't try to win and I optimistically hope that Alex's work will bear fruitation in the not too distant future.

Thomas on the Cup

by Dwight Thomas

Montreal Canadiens embarrassed the Boston Bruins by a 7-3 score, Saturday night, in the first game of the best of seven final for the coveted Stanley Cup. It wasn't a particularly good game, though the Beantowners did pull to within one goal of the Habs in the second period. Boston's defence wasn't very effective against the strong Montreal attack nor did Gerry Cheevers appear to be sharp in the visitor's nets. The Bruins, however, are a much better team than their play indicated and should rebound with a more spirited approach before this series is over. Boston is good enough to win two games from the Habs but another effort like the one Saturday night will leave the Bruins on the sidelines in four games. It still must be the Canadiens' series in six games or less.

Five new Summer courses at Haliburton art school

Five new courses ranging from music to a nearly-forgotten craft are among the 21 offered July 4 to August 19 by the Haliburton School of Fine Arts during its tenth summer of operation in Haliburton Village.

Barbara Bolin, a continuing education officer with Sir Sandford Fleming College, which operates the School, said a jazz workshop will be offered, as will a course in log building construction, a craft that has recently been attracting renewed public interest.

Other new courses include textile design, mixed media painting, and quilting.

The School annually attracts over 400 students to a variety of fine arts and craft courses, including landscape painting, life drawing and painting, photography, jewellery arts, enamelling on metal, loom and off-loom weaving, spinning and dyeing, sculpture, ceramics, stitching, children's music, forest education, stained glass, driftwood sculpture, teen painting and children's art.

Miss Bolin said most courses involve a minimum of five days of instruction, adding it was possible in some to continue for additional sessions.

Those wishing further information should write to the Haliburton School of Fine Arts, P.O. Box 339, Haliburton, Ontario, K0M 1S0 or telephone (705) 457-1680.

In Retrospect
Highlights of a great season
Excerpted from a recent letter to the HCSA
Membership

It was an eventful winter! LIP came through with Ten Thousand for trail improvements, funding a project that started November 15th and ran through February. We hope you noted the better trails. Extensive work was done on the Peterson to make it ready for the Bombi, the new Twin Pines Trail near Donald was completed, the Lipsy Lake trail was brushed out, and work was done in many other areas.

The Ministry of Natural Resources grant this year was $6,600, just a hundred less than last year even though it came from an allotment of only half as much. With this money, two Bombis were operated from early January into March and approximately 200 miles of dryland trails were groomed.

We have heard many complaints that snowmobiling was not good this year. If it was not, please place the blame on the weatherman, not the HCSA. For we tried! The acquisition of a second Bombi doubled our grooming capability and gave you a number of excellent trails to ride. For those who still prefer lake riding it was not a good winter. We needn't remind you how bad the slush was. Wintario came through - after 17 months - with half the purchase price of one Bombi. We expect half of the second one to be covered soon. Meanwhile the bank is holding two notes, backed by several directors personally, for quite large sums. To keep ahead of the instalments on these notes, the HCSA fund-raising endeavors MUST BE SUCCESSFUL. Several ideas are now in the mill.

Our Frost Centre Weekend, cancelled for lack of interest, and our March break dance, which failed to show a profit, were clear indications that the HCSA is not a social group. Only a handful of members showed any interest in the Clubhouse even though groomed trails led to it from three directions. What then is the HCSA? This is the question that must be answered before we plan our activities for next winter. Also, what do the members expect from their HCSA?

To answer these questions, and others, a General Meeting has been called for Sunday, May 22nd, at 2 pm in the clubhouse at Donald. The holiday weekend was chosen to provide a better opportunity for out-of-county members to attend. The presence of all members is respectfully requested. We need you to speak up, to voice your opinions, to let us know where we stand. We need you to choose your new board of directors for the coming year. Please come!

The nominating committee, consisting of Roy Bates and Dr. John Purc, will be scouting the county for active snowmobilers to fill several vacancies on the board. If you are interested, or if you know someone who is interested in when the original need and demand survey was conducted in 1975, only 21 senior citizen housing units were required but an update carried out last January indicated that 34 units were now needed. Reeve Murray Fearrey asked if the construction timetable could not be advanced as the municipality is anxious to have this project completed. Palmer replied that his ministry would do all it could to have the project started as soon as possible. Palmer also pointed out that Haliburton's other housing project, the geared-to-income family units, has received site approval from his ministry. The site is located on the Harburn Road, about a mile before the Haliburton Cemetery but within the town plan.

Keeping it cleanCut vehicle costs, cut air pollution...

Let's clear the air once and for all:

Efficiently operating emission control devices cut air pollution and vehicle operating expenses at the same time.

Many motorists wrongly believe that disconnecting the pollution control system on new cars results in better gas mileage, but the opposite is true.

The system does its job by aiding in more complete combustion of fuel. Tampering with the pollution control system leads to inefficient combustion and decreased fuel economy.

Tests show that decreased fuel economy in many new cars is the result of many factors. Here's how they compare: pollution control devices - six per cent*; increased weight to meet more stringent federal safety regulations, eight to 14 per cent; air conditioning - nine per cent and automatic transmission - six per cent.

(*an estimated average compared to pre-controlled 1967 models).

For a typical new-car driver, buying 585 gallons of gas at 85 cents a gallon, emission control equipment accounts for an extra annual expenditure of about $30.00.

Clearly, tampering with these devices just doesn't make economic sense.

Worse, tampering with or disconnecting the system can often lead to serious engine damage.

And car owners who tamper with the pollution control devices face reduced trade-in allowances to meet the dealer's cost of restoring the control to operating condition, a requirement under law.

The law is the Environmental Protection Act and by it, dealers who offer to sell cars with missing devices face fines up to $5,000.

It also permits maximum $5,000 fines for owners who tamper with the pollution control system on their cars and court convictions to date have resulted in fines up to $100.

The operation of automobile air pollution control devices is overseen in Ontario by the Ministry of the Environment, which is far less interested in collecting fines than informing you that efficient control devices can save you money and help the environment at the same time.

Local man charged in break-in

A Donald area man faces four charges following an axe-wielding, gun-pointing melee early last Saturday morning.

The incident, which police believe resulted from an earlier-in-the-day coffee-spilling incident occurred at the Donald home of John Brohm.

Brohm was inside his house when 29 year-old Donald Woolley, took an axe and shattered the glass in Brohm's car and then smashed its hood.

According to police when Brohm came out to see what was going on Woolley promptly punched him. Woolley then got a pellet pistol from his room, brought it out but did not fire it, finally returned to it to his room.

Woolley, who was given overnight lodging in the Lindsay Jail pending his hearing, has been charged with breach of probation, common assault, mischief and dangerous use of a firearm.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Roy Telford.
